New York Is Hit By Steady Winds

Northeast Expected to Bring Colder Weather Tuesday

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—A northeaster hit metropolitan New York today, bringing driving rain and wind gusts of gale force.

The weather bureau reported steady winds of 25 to 35 miles an hour whipped up the rain falling in the area. Some wind gusts were 45 to 55 miles an hour.

Colder weather was forecast, with a low of 30 to 35 by tomorrow.

The rain began falling just before midnight and up to 9 a. m. measured 1.38 inches.

Flurries Possible

The weather bureau said it was only "barely possible" there would be a few snow flurries in the northern suburbs and mountain sections of New Jersey tomorrow. Earlier, the storm moving up the Atlantic coast had been expected to cause snow.

At La Guardia Field, 44 scheduled departures and 39 arrivals, all of two-engine aircraft, were canceled. The cancellations were on New England and Washington, D. C., flights.

High winds causing air turbulence resulted in the diversion of two in-bound flights from Idlewild to Boston. Delays of 15 to 20 minutes were reported on out-bound flights.

Two Students Killed

Griswold, Conn., Dec. 14 (AP)—A collision between a poultry truck and a school bus in this isolated eastern Connecticut town was reported to have killed two girls and injured three other high school students today.

The bus was taking students from Voluntown, which has no high school, to Griswold High. The accident occurred on the Voluntown-Jewett City highway about a half mile from the Griswold-Voluntown town line.

George B. Sheldon, an assistant town clerk in Voluntown who summoned police, doctors and ambulances to the scene, said he was informed of the accident by a resident who lives near where it occurred and who drove into Voluntown for help.

1952 Theme Dusted

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—Democrats under the lead of Adlai E. Stevenson are dusting off for use in 1954 a 1952 campaign theme that the country "never had it so good" as when they were in power. This idea of prosperity and good times under Democratic administrations wasn't enough last year to overcome Republican cries it was "time for a change" and failed to put Stevenson in the White House. How well it and other issues will work for the Democrats now will be tested in next year's ballot-box battle to snatch control of Congress from GOP hands.

Residents of Albany Are Arrested, Held on Charges of Burglary

Three men arrested in Albany on Sunday will probably be questioned by area law enforcement agents who are seeking leads on three Ulster county safe-cracking jobs which netted unknown thieves a total of about $4,000 last month.

Albany police on Sunday reported the arrest of three residents of that city on burglary and larceny charges. Police identified the men as Charles A. Matulewicz, 29, of 107 Eagle street; George Pickett, 20, of 125 Clinton street, and Frank P. Berghella, 19, of 24 Harris avenue.

One of the jobs which, Albany police claimed, the trio confessed was the taking of a safe from Young's Laundry, 226 Elk street, on Nov. 30. Authorities said they also confessed to a series of burglaries in Albany and area.

To Be Quizzed

Police Chief John P. Tuffey of Albany said they will be questioned further in connection with a safe burglary at the Albany Fruit Co., 10 Lyon block, on Nov. 26, in which about $1,500 cash was reported missing.

When informed of the arrests, Kingston Police Chief Raymond Van Buren said this morning that his department will be interested in exploring whether the suspects might have had any connection with the reported theft of about $1,800 in cash from the safe at the Martin-Moran garage on East Chester street, Kingston, which was discovered the morning of Nov. 22.

High winds causing air turbulence resulted in the diversion of two in-bound flights from Idlewild to Boston. Delays of 15 to 20 minutes were reported on out-bound flights.

Brown Also Interested

County Investigator Arthur H. Brown also was interested in finding out whether there is any implication with the theft of more than $1,000 in cash from a safe at the Huguenot Motor Sales company office in New Paltz, reported Nov. 1.

The third, similar job, which is under investigation in Ulster county is the reported theft of more than $1,000 cash from a safe at Van Gorder's Garage along Route 209 near Ellenville, discovered on Nov. 8.

Brownell, Senator Disagree On Reds in U.S. Government

Fort Worth, Tex., Dec. 14 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell says he thinks all suspected Reds have been cleaned out of the government. But Sen. McCarthy (R., Wis.) disagrees.

Brownell said in a transcribed Texas radio speech last night he believes all federal employees suspected of Communist tendencies have been dismissed.

"We think that they are all out of government now," he said on the state Republican committee's weekly program, "Report to Texas."

"But the President has promised that within the coming year we will have completed the employee security program so that the people can be sure that none of them are left in government."

"And those that are outside, we are going to go after them separately," the attorney general declared.

McCarthy, Communist-hunting chairman of the Senate Investigations Subcommittee, said on the "Meet the Press" television program (NBC) last night more employees are being fired on loyalty grounds every day.

The administration "is heading in the right direction" in eliminating subversives from government, but "I don't think the job is ended," McCarthy said.

Union Representatives Are Not Available for Questioning on Job's Status

Knowland Expects Figures on Defense Outlay of Nation

With area Thruway work interrupted by heavy rainfall this morning, there appeared little likelihood of any change in the work stoppage situation caused by a jurisdictional dispute on the Whiteport-Ohioville section of the superhighway.

A total of .65 inches of precipitation—including wet snow and rain—fell up to 8 a. m. today when the gauge reading was taken at Brown Station by New York City Department of Water Supply men, and it was still raining hard at 10 a. m., when Thruway workers were released for the day.

It is customary on union construction jobs to pay workers two hours "reporting pay" to have them available in case the weather should clear by 10 o'clock.

Stoppage Began Thursday

Concrete and bridge construction work on the Ohioville-Whiteport section was tied up last Thursday when operating engineers stopped work, apparently in protest against the use of ready mix cement prepared and trucked to the job by members of the Lumberyard Employees Union.

Representatives of the International Union of Operating Engineers were reported to be out of town since last Thursday afternoon and were not expected to return to their Newburgh office until Wednesday.

The stoppage affected the Corbetta Construction Company, which last August submitted a joint bid with John Arborio, Inc., on the 10.21 mile section of superhighway.

The bid of $11,487,197.65 submitted August 6 resulted in the award of the contract to the two firms. Arborio, whose main office is in Poughkeepsie, was to do the grading and excavating, and the Corbetta firm, with main office in New York, was to do the concrete and bridge construction on the section.

Republican Leader Says Budget Balancing and Tax Cuts Are to Be Related

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R.-Calif.) said today the fate of budget balancing and possible tax reduction efforts will depend on how much President Eisenhower asks Congress to vote in defense funds.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said in an interview he expects lawmakers to be given figures Thursday on the over-all defense outlay for the year beginning July 1. White House talks with key Republican members of Congress on the administration's legislative program for 1954 began on that day.

"Until we get the recommendations of the Defense Department and the joint chiefs of staff on the military program, it will be difficult to come to grips with other budget figures," Knowland observed.

Agree on New Look

Secretary of Defense Wilson, before leaving for North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) meetings last week, said the joint chiefs had agreed on "new look" revision of the military forces. Wilson has said the military budget will call for a continuing air force buildup, with the goal of reaching 137 wings by mid-1956.

The proposed budget drafted by Wilson and his subordinates was placed before the President Saturday, but details have been closely guarded. However, there is speculation that the 1954 military budget may drop below 40 billion dollars, about 2 billion dollars less than for the current year.

Even if there is such a reduction, Sen. Byrd (D.-Va.) said, the government is likely to wind up this year with a hefty deficit and he can't see any road open to tax reductions beyond those that will be made automatically Jan. 1.

Paris, Dec. 14 (AP)—French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault told the opening session of the NATO ministerial meeting today that President Eisenhower's plan for an atomic pool for peace would "divert an immense material power from a deadly destruction toward the peaceful progress of mankind."

Bidault, chairman of the meeting, declared to the nearly 50 foreign, defense and finance ministers from the 14 North Atlantic nations that a positive Soviet reply to the Eisenhower proposal would bring "incalculable political consequences." He added:

"Never before would disarmament convey so many promises of a happy life."

Dulles Talks Today

The ministers crowded into the huge conference room of the Palais de Chaillot overlooking the Seine river for their 12th meeting on building up the defense of western Europe.

Later today U. S. Secretary of State Dulles was expected to tell them they must press on with their rearmament program no matter what they hope will come out of the Big Four's projected Berlin conference.

In his address today, Dulles was due to emphasize:

1. That the Russian threat is still very great to the democratic way of life in France and the other NATO nations.

2. That the European army treaty must be ratified and the one-uniform, six-nation force brought into being.

3. That the 12 German divisions to be raised for the army are not the only important feature of the pact; that equally important is the impetus it will give to the integration of western Europe—commercially and socially as well as militarily—to raise living standards.

Mrs. Howe Reports She Was Not Surprised; Still Hopes to See Her Boy

Tokyo, Dec. 14 (AP)—"Where did I fail... Oh, where did I fail?" an American mother sobbed today after learning from her son that he will not leave the Communists and return home.

Tears welling in her eyes, Mrs. Portia Howe, of Alden, Minn., held in her lap a two-page letter from her soldier son, one of the 22 Americans in the barbed wire pro-Communist camp at Panmunjom.

"I know that you want to take me home with you, but I have made up my mind and I am not going," Pfc. Richard R. Tenneson wrote his mother, who flew 7,000 miles in the hope of persuading him to come back.

His letter renounced life in the United States and heaped scorn on his country.

Deeply devout, a New Testament in her hand, the 43-year-old mother spoke bitterly of communism.

"I want his whole letter released to the public. I think people should know how vicious a thing communism is. If it can destroy a home, it can disintegrate a nation."

Still Hopes for Return

"I have not given up hope that some day my son will come back to me. I have not given up my faith in God nor Richard. Sooner or later he will see the light."

And, turning to her Bible she read from Proverbs 22-6:

"Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it."

In his letter, the 20-year-old Tenneson only 17 when he left the United States, jeered at his country and said United States authorities are afraid to let her visit him at Panmunjom.

The Defense Department has banned visits by relatives to the 22 Americans lest it create complications in the already tangled prisoner explanations.

"They are afraid," Tenneson wrote. "They have probably told you I was framed, doped, brainwashed or some other horse-maniure that they use to slander and defile people like myself who will stand up for his own rights and rights of man."

Prepared for Shock

Mrs. Howe said she was prepared for the shock after the 22 Americans refused to attend explanations yesterday.

"It was perfectly obvious to me it was going to be a negative reply—if there was to be a reply at all. I was not surprised."

Asked if she thought the letter was a true expression of Richard's feelings, she said:

"I think he thinks it represents his true feelings."

"This terrible thing has happened," she said.

Indian Spokesman Says POWs Try to Stall Off Coaxing

Panmunjom, Dec. 14 (AP)—Indian Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya said today he believes the 22 American prisoners of the Korean war who refuse to quit the Communists are attempting to permanently stall off allied attempts to coax them home.

"It looks to me like the Americans might never be explained to," he said, adding he would make a personal appeal to them, possibly tomorrow.

Thimayya said the Indian command would make every effort to get the explanations started, but there was little possibility they would get under way in less than four or five days.

Time is fast running out; the explanation period ends Dec. 23. Only hours before they were scheduled to meet with American explanation teams, the 22 balking Americans refused to meet with interviewers.

They said they won't leave their barbed wire compounds unless fellow pro-Communist South Korean prisoners also agreed to attend the sessions. The South Koreans have refused to do this for three days.

Leahy Rules Cellophane Operations Are Not Monopoly

Wilmington, Del., Dec. 14 (AP)—U. S. District Court Judge Paul Leahy ruled today that the cellophane operations of the du Pont Company was not a monopoly or conspiracy in restraint of trade as charged by the government.

Leahy dismissed the complaint, filed six years ago under the antitrust laws by the U. S. Justice Department. He said that the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc.—America's largest chemical-making firm—should not "be punished for its success."

Specifically the government accused du Pont of:

Controlling manufacture and sale of cellophane, limiting production, excluding competition, fixing prices, retaining tight hold on patents.

The government asked that du Pont be required to divest itself of some plants and factories and establish a competitive industry in cellophane and caps and bands.

Du Pont denied the charges. Judge Leahy said "the facts destroy the charges."

Streamliner Hits Vehicle, Kills 6 and Injures 35

Royse City, Tex., Dec. 14 (AP)—A whistling diesel streamliner slammed a station wagon off its tracks last night, killing a hard-of-hearing father, his wife, three children and maid.

The hurtling automobile tripped a switch that derailed the twin engines and 10 cars of the sparkling red-and-silver train. Five rear cars held to the rails.

Five train passengers were sent to hospitals. An estimated 30 more were bruised or shaken up.

The crash at 7:15 p. m. (CST) stopped the M-K-T Texas Special's fast trip from Dallas to St. Louis as it pounded through town at 60 miles an hour.

The twin diesel engines plowed 200 yards past the demolished station wagon and came to rest leaning at sharp angles to the ground. The baggage car flipped onto its side. The other derailed cars leaned at crazy angles.

The station wagon's top parted from its chassis under the impact

Red Radio Tells U.S. Come Back

Dean Says Young Has Authority to Resume, if Perfidy Charges Are Withdrawn

Panmunjom, Dec. 14 (AP)—U. S. Special Envoy Arthur H. Dean leaves tomorrow for consultations in Washington, leaving his chief aide in Korea "to see if the Communists wish to resume" the ruptured negotiations to set up a Korean peace conference.

Even as Dean made plans to depart, Red China and North Korea demanded through Peiping Radio that the United States resume the talks "or take full responsibility for destroying" the peace conference.

"The North Korean and Chinese side insist on the resumption of the conference," said a terse communique attributed to the Red delegates.

Dean, who met for eight weeks with the Reds in an effort to reach agreement, walked out on the Communist diplomats Saturday after they accused the allies of "perfidy."

Young to Have Authority

He told newsmen today that his aide, Kenneth Young of the U. S. State Department, will have "full authority" to resume the talks "if the Communists withdraw the perfidy charges and give some sign they are ready to negotiate in good faith."

However, the Communists' Peiping Radio already had reasserted the perfidy charges and laid the blame for the breakdown on the "contemptible cold war policy of the United States."

Peiping said Dean's walkout was "an ominous sign that the U. S. government might commit further perfidies of graver consequence."

Dean said in a statement it is "the definite policy of the United States of America that every reasonable attempt should be made to work out the difficulties and to convene the political (peace) conference, but it could not compromise a slur on its integrity."

Repeats UN Stand

Dean again repeated the UN stand that Russia be invited to the peace conference as a full voting participant on the Communist side and act as a neutral as the Reds have insisted. This was the big stumbling block in the talks.

Dean leaves Seoul at 1 p. m. tomorrow (11 p. m. Monday EST) for Washington to talk with U. S. authorities and representatives of some of the other United Nations that sent troops to Korea.

The preliminary Panmunjom talks were aimed at fixing the time, date and composition of the long delayed peace conference.

Gypping Posterity

By FRANK TRIPP

Almost anybody over 50 or so could write this column, about things that kids will never do again. It is addressed more to oldsters than to the young—to you who will remember joys now denied our children.

They'll never see a mile-long circus parade, with rumbling golden wagons, cages of animals from many climes, hundreds of beautiful horses in 8- to 20-rein teams, bands, clowns, equestrians, nor hear the man on horseback warn, "Hold your horses, here come the elephants," or the shrieking coal-fired "steam piano" that marked the end of the gorgeous pageant.

They'll never see a horsecar, many never a trolley, and it won't be long when none will know the majesty of the steam locomotive. They'll never see a copper-tipped, red-top leather boot, a bootjack, a cast iron tea kettle, a hot water reservoir at the back of a wood chunk range, a wooden wash tub in mid-kitchen for the Saturday night bath.

THEY'LL NEVER see a school slate, a tin drinking cup on the end of a chain at the schoolyard pump; the red welt from a teacher's ruler across a hand that got into mischief.

Few, if any, will ever snuggle their best girl under a buffalo robe on a sleigh ride party, or get a kick out of "hopping boys," a straw ride or that grand old party game, "post office."

They'll never know the joy—or value—of a penny, nor run a half mile errand to earn one. It'll never be a treat to lick the ice cream dasher, or scoop the raw molasses batter out of mom's baking bowl.

They'll never club the trees for chestnuts at the first frost, or brown their skins like Indians with walnut husks.

They'll never crack the dawn with cannon on the Fourth, tip over a Chic Sale on Halloween—or know whether Santa is the guy with ivory whiskers and pink pajamas in front of the hardware store or the skinny one chewing tobacco on the next corner.

The poor kids!

GUESS I NEVER let a Christmas pass without getting in dutch with Santa Claus Union No. 000. It's because a lot of 'em are still wearing the same faded, moth-eaten uniforms in which they tried to fool me 60 years ago.

It is bad enough to encounter Santa Claus on every corner when kids think he is at the North Pole making toys for good children. But when he shows up each time taller, fatter, skinnier, seedier, smellier or funnier than he was a few minutes before down the street—that's the payoff to any youngster who can think, and believe you me Santa is one fellow of whom they can and do think.

WE OLDSTERS are the ones who don't think. I'd like to bring up a family in a town where folks agree on a Santa Claus like they

This expression started and was used in church meetings as late as the 1900's. The troupers referred to are stage actors and the saying was used to denote the low esteem show people were regarded with by many people.

Chevrolet Annual Showing Planned By Bev. Anderson

A new line of Chevrolet passenger cars, improved in appearance and performance, will go on display her soon. Bev Anderson, of Bev. Anderson Chev., Inc., made the announcement on his return from White Plains, where Chevrolet retail dealers of this area saw 1954 models and heard a discussion of their features in the Westchester County Center.

"In line with the customary Chevrolet policy at these annual closed meetings, we have been asked not to reveal details of the new cars," said Anderson. "The company feels that its automotive progress can be fully appreciated only by first-hand inspection. For this reason we make every effort to keep the models under wraps until the national showing, when they can be seen only in dealer showrooms."

For his local introduction, Anderson plans special showroom decorations and a program that will make the event unusual. The annual showing here has always been spectacular, and Anderson says the 1954 display will be no exception.

do on mayor—just one of them. At least in a town where they had only two: maybe a Republican Nick and a Democrat Nick. Then the kids could grow up to join the party that did best by them—and not get gypped before they're out of short pants and diapers.

Wagner to Ask Revolving Fund To Help Schools

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Mayor-elect Robert F. Wagner Jr.'s new city administration will ask the state government to set up a 500-million-dollar revolving fund to aid construction of school buildings here and in other cities.

The Wagner administration also will seek an increase of 40 million dollars in state aid to pay teachers' raises and finance building repairs as part of the city's financing program to be submitted to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and the Legislature. Another city proposal is a shift to the state of the 15-million-dollar annual cost of the municipal colleges.

The program, revealed yesterday by an aide to Wagner who takes office Jan. 1, is a revision of the mayor-elect's campaign proposal to seek a 500-million-dollar bond issue for school construction.

Dewey, when told about the Wagner proposal for more state funds for city schools, said: "Everybody wants more state aid, but nobody wants to pay more taxes."

Under Wagner's school fund program, cigarette tax and state income tax levies imposed to pay the state veterans' bonus would be continued and used for educational purposes.

The Wagner spokesman said the bonus program will be completed within the next 18 months, and the 52 million dollars a year derived from the one-cent cigarette levy and from 10 per cent of the state income tax could be diverted to school needs.

Offer Is Accepted

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Stereotypers employed on New York city newspapers have accepted a package of $3.75 a week offered by the publishers, plus a fact-finding arrangement. James J. McMahon, president of Local 1 of the AFL International Stereotypers Union, announced that acceptance was voted by a meeting of 300 of the local's membership yesterday. He said the vote was taken after he had recommended acceptance. The package, as specified by the stereotypers, includes a weekly wage increase of $2 along with $1.75 in other benefits.

Program Is Adopted

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—The United Jewish Appeal has adopted a world-wide program of relief and rehabilitation among Jewish people with special emphasis on Israel. The appeal, as it closed its 60th annual conference yesterday, also set a goal of $119,921,150 for 1954. Some 1,200 Jewish community leaders from every section of the United States pledged a supreme effort to finance the urgent "life-saving and refugee settlement programs throughout the free world" among Jewish people.

"HOT" MONEY ISN'T TEMPTING—Take a good look—that's some $500,000 going up in flames at the Federal Reserve Bank in Cleveland, Ohio. It may make your hands itch, but it doesn't bother Joseph Ostendorf. He burns the stuff daily. The bills are discarded because they are dirty or mutilated. The currency is burned in a special 7 1/2-ton incinerator, perfected last July.

$2,145,273 Spent On New Onteora School Building

The Board of Education of the Onteora Central School announced today that $2,145,273.64 had been expended on the new school building located at Boiceville. An unexpended balance of $4,726.36 was all that remained out of the original bond issue in the amount of $2,150,000.00. One bond issue was voted April 14, 1950, in the amount of $1,850,000.00 and a second bond issue on February 13, 1951 in the amount of $300,000.00. The list of expenditures is as follows:

Architect, $94,187.47; General Contract, $1,413,892.50; Plumbing and Drainage, $124,472.23; Heating and Ventilating, $162,477.60; Electrical, $176,882.23; Soil Borings, $1,250.00; Insurance (Performance Bonds), $18,036.12; Clerk of Works Supervision, $2, 120.00; Legal Services, $5,955.28; General Administration, $1,519.01; Insurance during Construction, $6,835.52; Temporary Heat, $8,375.00; Temporary Heat, $13,328.35; Furniture and Equipment, $115,500.24; Miscellaneous Construction Costs, $2,442.09.

To Develop Play Area

In June 1951, the board invested the amount of the bond issue in United States Treasury Savings Notes, Series A, and the interest on this invested money up to the present time amounted to $22,810. During this period of time this interest was used in the General Fund for current expenses. Studies are now underway by the board to use the remaining $4,726.36 for the purchase and development of play and recreational areas.

Since the school has been open, hundreds of visitors have inspected it. The school has been rapidly gaining in reputation of being one of the outstanding school buildings in the nation. Boards of Education, school administrators from all parts of the state visit the school weekly.

Quota Is Announced

Local draft boards 18 (city) and 19 (county) today announced a January quota of 13 men for induction. The city board is scheduled to induct two men and the county 11 on Jan. 14.

Health for All

FIGHT AGAINST FEAR

Fear never cured anything. Knowledge, rather than panic, is the keystone of the Christmas Seal fight against tuberculosis. That is why the 3,000 voluntary tuberculosis associations of the United States want the people to know the truth about TB and how they can take effective, practical action against it.

Of course, you might protect yourself from a communicable disease such as TB by running away to some uninhabited part of the world and cutting yourself off from human companionship. That is the way of panic—not very practical and not much fun. Most of us would rather live a normal life with our neighbors, even though that means some dangers and some responsibilities.

You can protect yourself from TB by better ways than hiding from possible infection. You can join with your neighbors in community efforts to check the spread of the disease. One of the most important activities of your tuberculosis association is the spread of knowledge about TB. It tries to reach everyone in the community with the facts about the disease and about how to fight it.

Because general good health is the basic defense against TB, as it is against any disease, the tuberculosis associations work with the schools in their health programs so that your children will learn how to keep healthy and will have healthy school surroundings. They work with other local organizations to increase understanding about TB and to arouse community action to improve health conditions. They use radio, television, magazines, newspapers, pamphlets, films, posters, and exhibits to tell you and your neighbors how to keep yourselves safe from TB.

These activities for your benefit depend on your cooperation and support. As a good citizen, of course, you do what you can for the success of every effort to improve the health of your community. You can actively help your tuberculosis association by buying and using the Christmas Seals which are the major source of funds for its support.

This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by the Ulster County TB and Health Association, 74 John street.

Thefts Are Reported

Two thefts were reported to the police Sunday. Clarence Ryan, of 375 Broadway, reported at 8:30 a. m. Sunday that his barber shop had been entered through a rear window, a cigarette machine was broken and its money was taken. The amount was not mentioned. The manager of the Broadway Theatre reported at 1:43 p. m. that a window had been broken in the theatre's sound truck, and a paint brush, bucket and a distributor were stolen while the vehicle was parked on Field Court between Saturday afternoon and Sunday. Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons are investigating.

Eden Hill Burns

Poughkeepsie, Dec. 14 (AP)—"Eden Hill," a 35-room, three-story mansion that has been a landmark here since around 1900, was gutted by fire yesterday. The house had been occupied by Miss Priscilla Hinkley, but no one was at home when the fire broke out. The damage was estimated by the family at $200,000.

Area Sailor Dies As Car Overturns

Newton, N. J., Dec. 14 (AP)—A 19-year-old sailor home on leave was thrown 156 feet and fatally injured yesterday when the car in which he was riding overturned.

The dead sailor was identified as Salvatore W. Cardone, 22 Delaware avenue, Port Jervis, N. Y. The driver of the car, another sailor, Richard Henderson, 19, of Main street, Branchville, was reported in fair condition at Newton Memorial Hospital.

Lost Control of Car

Police said the accident happened on Rt. 206 in Hampton township when Henderson lost control of the car. The car jumped a steep embankment, and flipped over several times. Henderson was found unconscious at the wheel. Cardone was found in a ditch 156 feet past the car. He died in the hospital seven hours later.

State police said Henderson had a learner's permit to drive and Cardone did not have a license. They said Henderson has been charged with causing death by auto and driving a car on a permit without a licensed driver present. They said his father, Percy, will be charged with allowing an unlicensed driver to operate his car.

Cardone was stationed aboard the USS Preston and Henderson aboard the USS Northampton. Both ships arrived recently at Boston Navy Yard.

FAMINE IN CHINA

Reports from Communist China tell of a serious food shortage that has compelled the government to institute drastic food rationing. Rations have been cut throughout China and the people in the rice eating areas of the country are forced to content themselves with millet instead of their usual diet.

Queuing up for food is not an uncommon experience in many parts of the world. It must be remembered, however, that most people in China have always existed on an amount of food considered below the subsistence level in other countries. When the consumption of food is cut further, people are in a bad way indeed.

The fact that food is actually being taken from China to feed Russia and her satellites must make the situation even more difficult for the hungry people to bear. The promises the Communists made when they came to power of a plentiful supply of food must sound hollow to those who once accepted them at face value. As in other parts of the world the Chinese have discovered that those who ask men to trade freedom for food usually do not deliver the food.

The Chinese are a patient people but the most patient people have a breaking point. There have been outbreaks of revolt in the Communist satellites in Europe. Will similar uprisings occur in China?

The industrial genius that is America's has made this a land not only in which men are created free and equal, but also in which they are entitled to more than five million new cars a year.

THEY'VE EARNED THEIR WAY

In a Boston courtroom the other day, 17 G.I.'s stood up before a judge. They weren't charged with anything. Quite the contrary. They were being honored.

These servicemen were being naturalized as American citizens. They had taken advantage of a new law that allows aliens to become citizens after just one year's residence in the United States, provided they have served at least three months in the armed forces.

Four of the 17 in Boston were veterans of the Korean war. One of these was a Polish sailor who jumped ship in New York harbor five years ago, and thereby touched off an epidemic of desertion which cost Red-dominated Poland some 60 seamen.

Among the new soldier-citizens were a man from Russia, from Czechoslovakia, from Estonia (now part of Russia), from Soviet Germany, from Yugoslavia.

America is proud to welcome these men. At the very outset they have demonstrated the quality of their prospective citizenship by voluntary military service. Some even have risked their lives. We cannot ask for any better proof of their sincere desire to be Americans. They have earned their rich new privileges.

Mrs. Harrison Williams was often called the best dressed woman in the United States. She could afford to be, as her husband was a possibility, though rarely mentioned, for the title of the richest man in the country. He accumulated a fortune which at one time he admitted had reached $600,000,000. Asked why he did not retire, he was quoted as saying, "I want to make it a billion."

TWO NOT OF A KIND

The late Harold Kellock of Washington must have been a man of versatile tastes. He wrote the authorized biography of Harry Houdini, the escape artist, and was said at his death to have been working on a life of President John Adams.

It would be hard to name any public man who had less in common with Houdini, the expert at getting out of all sorts of trouble, than Adams. Bluff and irascible, he said whatever came into his mind, regardless of whether it hurt himself or anyone else.

But for this inability to avoid controversy, he might not have been defeated by Jefferson for reelection. This defeat embittered him for a time, but did not keep him from

AREAS OF PEACE

If the atom bomb were the only impediment to peace, the various proposals to limit atomic and hydronuclear warfare would solve all our problems. The depositing of such material, as the President proposes, with the United Nations would end the contest between the United States and Soviet Russia and the world would again be restored to the pleasant conditions that my generation experienced before 1912.

It would be wonderful and a blessing to our children and grandchildren. Perhaps I shall be regarded as a reactionary for suffering a pre-war nostalgia; yet the fact remains that since World War I, the Western Christian Civilization, as Arnold Toynbee describes it, has steadily disintegrated until now it has, in too many aspects, lost its power of resistance to the challenge of the Soviet Church, which is engaged in the development of a universal state.

This, and not the atom bomb, is our problem. The world has always been conquered by ideas and ideals and the will to resist external aggression and infiltration, and not by the use of a particular weapon. Whenever a new Church has developed in history, an idealistic power is generated which produces martyrs and that attracts youth to itself from the population of the disintegrating civilization.

This is the problem of our age. It is not dissimilar to other periods when a new Church entered upon an era of conversion, of propaganda of the faith, of forcing adherence and even of war for universal conquest. Volume V of Toynbee's "A Study of History" deals with this type of human experience, of which there have been many examples. The Soviet Church is expanding into a universal state which now comprises 800,000,000 people, with several hundred million outside its orbit who are afflicted by fear of eventual conquest. Its objective must be the entire world or it can have no objective.

No such movement has ever fully succeeded. No really universal state has ever been established. No single government has ever encompassed the entire human race. No Church has ever held the whole of mankind. Such movements reach an apogee and then break up by the disintegrating processes that are inevitable with apparent success. Nevertheless, while the effort is in the early proselytizing stages, it produces untold misery for the rest of mankind. It is in this stage that the Soviet Church is now; it is an expanding empire which is moving toward a universal state.

In consideration of these forces, the role of the politician, heading a country, is different from that of the philosophic historian. The politician must face immediate problems which arise today and need to be settled today. Often his fears are the reflex of personal as well as political problems. The disintegration of his civilization may hurl him into oblivion as the Bolshevik Revolution so hurled Nicholas II and Alexander Kerensky (1917-18). The politician seeks not only to safeguard his country but to preserve himself as Chiang Kai-shek did when, instead of taking refuge in the United States or Switzerland, he settled on Formosa. The politician therefore seeks compromises and appeasement to postpone such a test of strength as Charles Martel risked at Tours against the Moslems (732), who otherwise might have expanded their Church throughout Western Europe.

But the test of strength must come because a universal state will expand until it is literally stopped, that is, by war, or until it disintegrates through the degenerating factors of success. While it is true that that why no such state has ever encompassed the whole of mankind, it is also true that centuries of troubled times may keep mankind on tenterhooks until the pressures are released.

I repeat: this is our problem. To assume that it will be solved by turning the atom bomb over to the United Nations is to fail to grasp the historic meaning of such a development. It is like playing with toys while great forces are at work.

Just think out this one fact for yourself: atom bomb or no atom bomb, the Soviet Church is distinct from Russia, has grown from 180,000,000 to 800,000,000 human beings and is continuing to grow. I wonder if any of the Three Wise Men in Bermuda measured that fact in historic terms. Unless they are capable of such breadth of view, their decisions may not fit the requirements for arresting the advance of the Soviet universal state. ### MANY CANCER PATIENTS LIVE FOR YEARS

Because the cause of cancer is not definitely known, many of us feel that all cancer patients have but a short time to live. It may come as a surprise, therefore, to learn that not only is early cancer curable but some cancer patients live with cancer for many years.

In The Canadian Medical Association Journal, Dr. Norman A. McCormick, Windsor, Ontario, reports that since the opening of the Cancer Clinic and establishment of the Neoplastic (new growths) Service in the Metropolitan General Hospital, 4,253 patients have been treated for cancer. Because practically all of these patients (99.7 per cent) have been followed-up for a number of years, cancer patients and the families of cancer patients can learn much about cancer and its treatment that may prove helpful and encouraging.

"The histories of 1,204 persons who have five years after treatment of microscopically proved cancer offer ample proof that cancer can be cured. Forty-four per cent of the 2,763 cancer patients admitted to the clinic between December, 1935, and January 1, 1948, lived five years." There has been such a steady increase in the survival rate that the Hospital and Clinic now confidently expect that more than 50 per cent of their patients with cancer to be alive five years later.

"The largest single group of patients (633) had cancer of the skin, usually in such exposed areas as the face, neck and hands. The treatment of choice in the clinic is by irradiation, either with X-ray or radium, supplemented by surgery when considered necessary."

Seventy-seven per cent of the patients with cancer of the skin were alive and free from any sign of growth after five years. Only one per cent died of cancer; the others died from illness or old age.

The conclusions of Dr. McCormick from observations of this wonderful follow-up of cancer patients are:

1.—The outlook for the cancer patient has improved.
2.—A degree of centralization is essential for adequate treatment of cancer, but it is not necessary that this be limited to the very large areas of population. On the contrary, comparison with published results shows that the existence of the smaller cancer clinic is justified.

3.—Clinics in the smaller areas, if adequately staffed, have many advantages as they make possible a degree of attention that is unobtainable in large institutes and the patients appreciate being near their homes and the support of their family physicians.

Why Not Act on This Question Before It Happens?

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NEA)—The name of Attorney General Herbert Brownell has been dropped into the political hat as a new Republican presidential possibility for 1956. This speculation comes as a result of the New Yorker's grabbing the ball on the Harry Dexter White spy-charge play, and making a wide end run around the McCarthy line anti-Communist interference. At the attorney general's office, it is said that the subject has not been mentioned.

Following reports that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York would not run for re-election, there has been some talk that Brownell might be a candidate for the governorship. When asked about these rumors, the attorney general refused comment.

Brownell served five terms in the New York legislature and then quit politics as an officeholder until he was appointed attorney general by President Eisenhower. But he has managed Governor Dewey's campaigns, and served as Republican National Committee chairman. He took a leading part in getting the Republican nomination for President Eisenhower at Chicago.

He is rated as one of the shrewdest operators in the GOP.

Hearing on Davies

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has declared that examination of the record in the John Patton Davies case would be completed by the end of the year, but this is only the first step. It will take months to go through all the proceedings of again clearing or discharging the State Department career man.

What takes so long is that

Davies has served in all parts of the world — Russia, Germany, China and Latin America. Full field investigations must be made at every place he served. The 2000-page record of these investigations is now about complete. Next step is to prepare a summary—a kind of legal brief.

The record will then be examined by Security Administrator W. R. Scott McLeod of the State Department. If the evidence warrants, he may recommend that Davies be suspended.

If suspension is ordered, the government has 30 days in which to give Davies a copy of the charges. The case then goes before a Security Hearing Board of three non-State Department government officials for a sort of trial.

The Security Hearing Board then prepares an advisory opinion. This decision then goes to Secretary Dulles for final decision. There is no appeal from his finding.

His Favorite Answers

Defense Secretary Charles Wilson is developing some favorite answers to the questions he is asked most frequently.

When anyone asks him about next year's military budget he says, "You know, I'm still tremendously impressed by the size of a billion dollars. That's why I wouldn't want to give you a figure that might be a billion or two off."

When asked whether the navy will be permitted to build another super-carrier he replies, "Before I can answer that I like to find out if the person asking the question has any relatives in the navy."

That make a big difference on this carrier business."

New-Stamp Idea

Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield may have latched onto a new-stamp-sales gimmick to ease his multimillion-dollar postal deficit. When the Gen. George Patton commemorative stamp was issued, Summerfield was swamped by demands for sheets of 100 stamps.

The issue was so huge that it was suggested there should be a special commemorative stamp issued for the outstanding general of every West Point class, and the outstanding admiral of every Annapolis class.

Tough Fight

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's speech to the United Nations on Communist atrocities in Korea was probably the longest he ever delivered, but there was a reason.

A first draft was prepared by the Pentagon for delivery on the day the army released its pictures and reports. Ambassador Lodge didn't like the manuscript. The next proposal was to have Secretary of State Acheson read it. Stevens issued the text as a news release, but that idea likewise was abandoned.

Army speech writers then made a second attempt at something for Ambassador Lodge to deliver at UN. He didn't like the new version any better. A new team went to bat, but hit three foul balls in a row. On the fourth pitch they connected.

Wire Payments Easy

Cincinnati (AP)—The utility company here has a pay-as-you-use system to cover rewiring of your house. The homeowner and electrical contractor decide what needs to be done. The contractor does the job and bills the utility. The company adds the cost to the monthly electric bill, spreading the amount over a maximum of 36 months. Inspectors estimate 85 per cent of the homes in Cincinnati are inadequately wired for electricity.

Suggestion Is Made White House Conduct Mail Research on McCarthy Correspondence

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 14.—They better start analyzing those telegrams and letters in the McCarthy-versus-the Administration controversy over foreign policy received recently at the White House. The analysis may contain an answer as to whether the Republicans will lose control of both Houses of Congress in 1954 and also the presidential election in 1956.

It would be worth while for the White House staff to conduct a mail research for it is irrelevant letters and say, as the White House press secretary did the other day, that the telegrams were "slightly ahead" on the administration side whereas McCarthy was somewhat ahead on the letters.

What must be ascertained basically is how many of the writers of the 50,000 telegrams surrounding the Stevenson in 1952 and now are ready to switch their allegiance and how many voted for Eisenhower and now either will stay away from the polls or vote Democratic. A 50,000 sample is big enough as scientific studies have shown. Actually many of the Gallup polls are based on a sample of only 2,000 per study.

Judging by the information given out it could be assumed that the count showed 52 per cent in favor of the Administration and 48 per cent opposed to its policies. If the breakdown shows that of the Democrats 90 per cent differed with McCarthy and 10 per cent agreed with him, it couldn't be of much avail to the White House from a political viewpoint unless the Republican disaffection were also small. But if as many as 25 per cent of the Republicans are in disagreement with the President's position on a continuance of trade with Red China then Republican Chairman Leonard Hall may be able to use McCarthy's remark after the Wisconsin election: "We're in trouble."

How many of those who wrote letters or telegrams dealt with the issue on which they were asked to write? Many newspaper dispatches, for example, failed to make the issue clear. Secretary Dulles himself got into a certain extent the Wisconsin senator's speech by attributing to him something he never said—"perfumed notes to our allies."

McCarthy was talking about our vacillations in dealings with the Communists at Panmunjom. Here is exactly how the reference to "perfumed notes" arose in Senator McCarthy's speech: "On September 12, 1953, the Chinese Communists announced that they would not treat as prisoners of war American fliers who were shot down during the Korean war, over Manchuria. On September 10, 1953, the army had engaged. In another section of the same speech, to be sure, Senator McCarthy denounced the allied trade with Red China, Great Britain, for instance, doesn't deny that she exported rubber—a strategic material—to Soviet Russia throughout the Korean War. Moscow has admitted publicly that Soviet Russia has been sending munitions and war materials to Red China during the Korean War. The Truman and Eisenhower administrations did not use their maximum influence with the allies to stop that trade. That's the McCarthy charge and that's why he and other senators advocate cutting off financial and economic aid to the allies if they insist on supplying war materials to the enemy in a war in which our own soldiers are engaged.

The barrage of letters and telegrams means that there is a serious division of opinion about a policy of constant "give away" to our allies without obtaining a faithful adherence by them to the simple proposition of protecting the lives of American soldiers from states in the back with weapons made from materials sold by merchants in allied countries. Any candidate for Congress in either party who wants to test that issue at the polls next autumn need have no doubt as to what the vote would be.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Dec. 13 — Telford Taylor, a lawyer of the Roosevelt bureaucracy with the characteristic Harvard Law background, stuck his neck out recently and has invited inspection of facts hitherto unknown to the public. At West Point he banged Senator Joe McCarthy for rooting Communists out of army civilian jobs and after that he went to Notre Dame and kicked the gong around some more. Notre Dame is free to invite whomever to discuss whomever, but the superintendent of the Military Academy probably will get a wiggling for letting Taylor sound off, notwithstanding his rank as a reserve brigadier which was hung on him during his service at the Nurnberg "War Crimes" debacle.

Senator McCarthy got busy and reported that he had found a "slag" on Taylor's Civil Service card in Washington, reflecting "derogatory" information about him. There is no desire to take revenge on the superintendent, but the offense against propriety has been complicated by evasiveness about the invitation, the auspices, the responsibility and the number of cadets who were present. Hedging on a question close to the heart of honor, Taylor becomes an institution which fired a large group of cadets for violations of the code, including some which were more technical than moral violations. One officer officially told McCarthy that the "meeting" which Taylor addressed was conducted independently by a bunch of cadets and if you believe that I will sell you Brooklyn Bridge real cheap.

We have already reviewed some personalities, careers and connections of individuals in Taylor's law firm in New York who busied themselves in the defense of Alger Hiss, a close friend of Taylor, although they were not his lawyers. Today, let us hear from Rabbi Benjamin Schultz, the director of The American Jewish League Against Communism, who had an experience on May 24, 1950 where in a friend invited him to tea at the apartment of a person unknown to the rabbi, who turned out to be our old pal, Arthur J. Goldsmith, the bashful dragon of the Waldorf Tower. Rabbi Schultz was interested in a thing called common cause, which was about holding a rally at the New York Town Hall in favor of the American decision to hold fast in Berlin when the Russians put down their blockade. He didn't know whose apartment it was and suddenly found himself in the drag-on's lair, which is a political headquarters using a variety of names to swing elections, especially of senators and congressmen. In states of small population a few thousand dollars may lick a stout patriot such as Pat McCarran, although Goldsmith missed and fell on his snoot when he swung on Pat.

Remind me to tell you of some correspondence between Goldsmith and a young fellow named Franklin whom he picked as his candidate and of telegrams to David K. Niles at the White House regarding the draft status of Goldsmith's boy during the war. But for the present, there was Rabbi Schultz, sniffing a dish of pekoe and gnawing a goo canape and he looks up and darn if there isn't a military expert who jumped into the army with the rank of major and beat Elliott Roosevelt's time to brigadier. With him was old Leon Birkhead, who used to run a deal called Friends of Democracy which kept secret "files" on people and employed a sniveling snoop named Derounian, alias John Roy Carlson, who writes lies by the bookful, as Judge Barnes said in the U. S. Court in Chicago. Old Birkhead has not been doing too well lately and his Friends of Democracy has even dropped out of the phone book, but back in May, 1950 the old wower was still in.

"Taylor and Birkhead ganged up on me," Rabbi Schultz said, "just because I said it was unfortunate that the Communists had taken China from us. Taylor said I was ignorant and told me he knew all about the military security of the United States because as he said 'I am a military man.'"

Rabbi Schultz didn't know the reality of the Boy Scout's career or he might have needed armor for particulars of his battles. Still, he didn't back off from Taylor because he could tell something by the look of him.

"He said 'China is not at all important,'" the rabbi said, "but Europe is all-important to the defense of the United States."

Then Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde, the daughter of a Supreme gas-bag of the age, horned in with a dictum that the only way to lick

Three Are Injured As Car Overtakes

Three persons were injured when a car driven by Clyde A. Broadhead, 18, of 146 West Pierpont street, left Route 209 and turned over three times after a rear tire blew out early today near Stone Ridge.

State police at Kingston listed George VanDyke, 23, owner of the sedan, Elaine VanDyke, 18, of 60 Meadow street, and Shirley Simms, of Gage street, as the injured.

Conditions Listed

George and Elaine VanDyke were admitted to Kingston Hospital where his condition was reported as fair and her's as good. He suffered lacerations of the face, possible concussion and a back injury and she suffered lacerations of the scalp and a possible leg fracture. Shirley Simms suffered a back injury.

The police report said the car was headed north on Route 209 at about 12:45 a. m. when the tire blew about two miles north of Stone Ridge.

Says Car Sideswiped

Alfred Ross Hart, 27, of New Paltz reported to the sheriff's office at 5:30 p. m. Saturday that an unknown vehicle sideswiped his automobile on Route 32 near Muller's Terrace and failed to stop. Hart said the left rear fender of his 1953 convertible was considerably damaged, but reported no personal injuries.

Tells of Being Shot

Middleboro, Mass., Dec. 14 (AP)—A hardy cranberry bog worker related today how he was shot and abandoned by a group of hunters and how he lay without help for three days in his little shack until his plight was discovered by a chance visitor. Benjamin De Silva said in his hospital bed that a group of hunters apparently mistook him for a deer last Thursday and shot him three times, filling his chest, back, right leg and arm with buckshot. The hunters took him to his shack and told him they were going for help. They never returned. De Silva said. He yelled for help for two days but none came. De Silva said.

Fire Destroys Texas Warehouse

These soaring flames were caught at the height of one of the outbursts of fire that destroyed the Phillips 66 warehouse and enveloped four 10,000 gallons of gasoline, diesel oil and kerosene at Wichita Falls, Tex. Exploding tank in above picture held gasoline. Firemen estimated damage at between $25,000 and $30,000.

Additions Made To Court Calendar

Additions were made to the day calendar in Supreme Court this morning and after No. 228, William Davis against Douglas L. Steenborn and another, had been announced settled five actions were moved but after a short recess during which motions were heard at chambers, these actions went over until next Monday. In the Davis vs. Steenborn negligence action Michael Nardone appeared for plaintiff and O. C. Stanton for defendant.

The five negligence actions which went over until Monday were: Mary Thompson against George Davidson and Harry Midguth; James Middaugh et al. against Mary Kenning and another; Dorothy Miller against Mary Kenning and another; Adelaide Burgher against Mary Kenning and another; and George Davidson against Mary Kenning and another. David W. Corwin appears for Mary Kenning as a plaintiff and Van Houten & Feury, Joseph P. Leary and George Davidson appear for defendants and Chester J. Winslow, Jr., appears for the other plaintiffs.

A negligence action brought by Maria Kramarchuk against Adinondack Transit Lines, Inc., and another was moved for trial. Joseph H. Hyer appears for plaintiff and David Tepp for defendant. A jury was taken in that action.

Other Cases Settled

Also announced as settled were the following cases: James Thompson and another against Samuel David, negligence. N. LeVan Haver for plaintiff and Horace I. Gordon for defendant. Etienne F. Messinger against Max Ferro and another, contract. Roger H. Loughran for plaintiff and Walter J. Miller for defendant.

Grace van B. Roberts against Alice Bulion, action for trespass. Risk & Risk for plaintiff and A. W. Lent for defendant. Carmine Pallonetti against Betty Reed Brannon, negligence. Roy L. Featherstone for plaintiff and Charles H. Gaffney for defendant. Regina Prusack against Links Trucking Corp., and another, negligence. Bernard A. Culleton for plaintiff and Cook and Cook for defendant.

Helen Olseki and another against Links Trucking Corporation and another, negligence. Bernard A. Culleton for plaintiff and Cook & Cook for defendant. Eudakia Usan and others against Epheum Lagunoff, negligence. Kurzman and Frank for plaintiff and Clark, Fox and Laguardia for defendant.

Ex-Cuban Leader Pleads Innocent To Exporting Arms

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Carlos Prio Socarras, former president of Cuba, and three other men pleaded innocent in federal court today to a charge of conspiring to export arms and implements of war from the United States without a license.

Prio said he was "perfectly confident" that he would be cleared of the accusation.

The others entering pleas before Judge David N. Edelstein are: Segundo Curti Messina, Prio's interior minister until his presidency was overthrown in 1952 by Fulgencio Batista; and two Americans, Francis Connell and William Wood.

Judge Edelstein set trial for the four to start Feb. 15 and continued their existing bail: $50,000 for Prio, $25,000 for Curti and $1,000 each on the others.

Following the session, Prio said "My constant endeavor in behalf of the liberties of my fellow citizens probably has been mistaken with activities of which I have no knowledge."

"All I want to do is fight for democracy in Cuba, and there is nothing subversive in my actions. I am not guilty of arms smuggling and I have never had anything to do with that."

John G. Garon, 300 Lucas avenue. The motor was in a forced air unit. Damage was not extensive. A false alarm was sounded at 6:57 p. m. Sunday from Box 2531, Third avenue and High street.

Saugerties Police Will Probe Blaze

Saugerties police have been asked to join firemen in the investigation of a fire which destroyed an unoccupied two-story frame house on East Bridge street in that village Friday night.

Fire Chief Russell O'Dea said today he had called in the police after preliminary investigation failed to determine the cause of the blaze.

It appeared at first that the fire started in the attic and spread down the east side of the building, but subsequent probing now indicates that it started in a small room near the kitchen on the east side of the building.

'Old Kenny House'

The house was owned by Chester H. Bonesteel of 161 Market street and was known locally as the "old Kenny house."

The fire was discovered by a motorist about 9 p. m. The interior of the structure was ablaze when firemen arrived, but quick and efficient work prevented the fire from spreading to the outside of the building, which is located next to the Crystal Lake Hotel. Lines of hose from hydrants on the south side of Hill street caused a 45-minute tieup of traffic in both directions on Route 9W, police said.

Judge Cook Turns Buyer—Purchases Deep-fry, TV Set

Friends of former county Judge Andrew J. Cook may soon be enjoying French fries and television programs.

Judge Cook became the owner of a television set, booster and deep-fry at a sheriff's sale at the Court House today.

Sheriff Cluett Schantz had seized under a city court execution the articles to satisfy a judgment against Glenford L. Miller of 56 Henry street. Bidding started at $100 and reached $125 when Judge Cook arrived from Supreme Court chambers upstairs.

"Unseen and unseen," aided by a bit of chiding from friends, Judge Cook and Attorney Abraham Streifer continued the bidding with Judge Cook putting in the last lick at $155.

When last seen Judge Cook, who had been assured "there was something inside the cabinet," was discussing with a radio expert the problem of getting the set in working order and the erection of a TV antennae. The set is a 21-inch model.

Is Offered For Debate

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Dec. 4 (AP)—President Juan D. Peron's government offered for congressional debate today a bill to grant amnesty to scores of imprisoned opponents and to thousands in exile. As a prelude, Peron over the weekend freed 75 political prisoners. Among those released by an order Saturday of Interior Minister Angel Borlenghi were radical party leader Manuel Lopez Arias, Francisco Hipolito, editor of the opposition newspaper El Ciudadano, and three high army officers. Those freed had been accused of anti-state political activity or contempt of Peron's regime.

Final Mid-Week Service

The final service in a series of mid-week Advent meditations will be held in Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, Livingston street, Wednesday, at 7:30 p. m. The Rev. Ernest L. Witte will preach on the theme Light at Christmas time. The choir, under the direction of the organist, Miss Marion Marquart, will be heard in a festival selection. Next week the Christmas Eve children's service will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. The public is invited to attend.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—The stock market improved slightly today after a hesitant start.

The movement of prices in either direction seldom got as far as a major fraction. Steels started lower and then recovered to show some good plus signs. The magazine steel noted that the industry already has established a record high production this year, but it was quickly pointed out that demand this month waned and production currently is unusually low.

Tobacco remained depressed as they have been most of the time the past week during discussion of the cigarette-lung cancer question.

Columbia pictures was up a fraction after reporting earnings for 13 weeks ended Sept. 26 at $1.01 a share as compared with 9 cents for the comparable period of last year.

Among higher stocks were Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Boeing, American Telephone, Southern Pacific, Eastern Air Lines, and U. S. Gypsum.

Late Bulletin

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today it is practically impossible to exaggerate the need for American cities to prepare themselves for a possible atomic attack.

Eisenhower told an unprecedented White House conference of mayors there is time, however, to make such preparations sensibly and without hysteria.

"Organized haste will save you and panic will destroy you," he said.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—
Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H. The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly.

PITCHING HORSESHOES

By BILLY ROSE

"The SECOND SEX"
The subject of our discourse today is "The Nagging Nellie," or "The Cause and Cure of the Common Scold." And my reason for rehashing this shopworn theme is a fattish volume I've just finished reading called "The Second Sex," written by a French lady named Simone de Beauvoir.

In her book, for almost a thousand pages, Miss de Beauvoir maintains that women on all six continents are being treated as if they were second-rate human beings. As she pictures it, the average gent is a domineering dillard who, because he pays the grocery bills, thinks he has a right to step on his ladylove's neck and continue standing there until said neck snaps. "Women of the world, arise!" she trumpets. "You have got to lose but your ball-and-chains!"

Well, maybe this is the relationship of the sexes in France where things in general seem to be bad but, Miss de Beauvoir notwithstanding, it's my best impression that the girls on our side of the pond are way out in front in the old struggle between the Hees and Shees.

The best proof of this, I think, is that the European jokesters are still telling the same old wheezes about marriage in America: (a) that the average Yank husband is a man with the courage of his wife's convictions, and (b) that English is our mother tongue because father seldom gets to use it. Furthermore, unless you walk away quickly, they're likely to tell you the one about the wife in Boston who bawled out her husband for coming home an hour late. "If this was the first time," she is supposed to have said, "I might forgive you, but you did the same thing in November, 1926..."

As I see it, the trouble with the independence theory in Miss de Beauvoir's book is that it may prompt some of our liberty-loving lasses to go to extremes. Corny as it may sound, it's the belief of this two-time loser that the best way for a girl to be happy with a man is to let him think he's running the show. After all, most men spend their days kowtowing to one boss, and it figures they don't want to come home nights and have to put up with another. The wife, bless her battered little ego, is usually entitled to what she wants but, four times out of five, she can get it more easily with a

"do-you-think-we-should?" than with a "do-it-or-else."

Not long ago, I heard a story about a Nagging Nellie which illustrates my point.

Toward the end of World War 2, a good-looking Wac from Detroit, who was stationed at an ordnance depot outside of Paris, met up with an even better-looking French aviator. The flyer granted as prettily as Charles Boyer and, what's more, had "one of those stiff little mustaches with which one can kiss a girl and brush her teeth at the same time."

After several weeks of waltzing and wild-hearting, the Wac decided that the Frenchman was strictly for her.

Along about that time, her discharge papers came through and the Wac flew back to Detroit to tell her folks about her fiancé and to prepare for the wedding. It was agreed that the aviator would follow as soon as he was mustered out.

So far, it had all been sweet nothings, champagne and Chanel No. 5, but as soon as the Wac landed in Detroit, she figured the time had come to get practical. Sweet nothings might be free, but champagne and Chanel No. 5 cost like the dickens.

When her Frenchman arrived at the Detroit airport a few weeks later, the girl was at the ramp to meet him.

"Everything's arranged, my dear," she said between kisses. "Blood tests this afternoon and on Saturday we get married."

"Magnifique," said the flyer. "Then we will buy a second-hand car and go exploring. I have always wanted to see your country."

"That'll have to wait till next summer," said the girl. "You see my parents think all Frenchmen are lazy and irresponsible, and it's important you make a good impression right away. My father is a big wheel at General Motors and he has arranged for you to start work next Monday in their export division."

"I'm not sure I'd care to work in an office," said the flyer.

"You'll like it fine once you get used to it," said the girl. "Now, please don't complicate things."

"Don't worry, ma chérie," said the Frenchman. "I dislike complications myself."

Saying which he bowed, walked over to the ticket counter and an hour later was on a plane back to Paris.

Idea for Brightening
The Christmas Tree

Want to add a lot of extra brightness and cheer to your family's holidays without adding a lot of cost? It's easy! Just get an extra supply of chewing gum and use those gayly colored gum packages for tree decorations, stocking fillers, and after-meal treats to pass around the dinner table.

Bright packages of chewing gum, with their smooth, glistening appearance and gay colors, add an attractive touch of beauty to any tree and offer a pleasant surprise to youngsters who see them peeking out of Christmas stockings. Some chewing gum even comes wrapped in traditional red, green, and white colors, perfectly in tune with the holiday spirit.

Mothers are especially delighted with the idea of using packages of gum for Christmas decorations, because the protective wrappings keep the gum clean and wholesome, and the youngsters can enjoy the contents without spoiling their appetites. No harm done even if she notices that a package or two have mysteriously disappeared from the tree!

We're all dolled up for Santa!

Many telephone offices all over the state look like Santa's workshop these days... jam-packed with dolls, toys and games.

It's all part of a Christmas tradition telephone people have built by gathering and distributing toys at Christmas time. These gifts have helped make the holidays brighter for thousands of ill or unfortunate children all over the state.

Work starts early in October as shipments of dolls and toys start to arrive. Then, during lunch hours—and after hours, too—the dolls get the latest hairdos. Hundreds of tiny dresses are carefully sewed and fitted. Games and toys are gaily wrapped. This year about 15,000 of these presents will be distributed.

Lending a hand to Santa—or helping to put through your call—is typical of the spirit of service that telephone people bring to their jobs. A spirit of service that has always made telephone service so friendly, fast and dependable. New York Telephone Company.

Jacoby on Canasta

Red Threes Pose Problems

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The red threes still seem to puzzle many canasta players, and that goes double for the samba players. These cards add both spice and trouble to the various games of the canasta family. Let's see if we can review all of the rules that apply to red threes.

To begin with, if a red three is turned up by the dealer, it must be covered by another card. The turn-up card that is offered to the first player must be a normal natural card. It cannot be a red three, a black three, or a wild card. If a red three is turned up and covered, the pack is then "born" frozen.

If you dealt a red three as part of your original hand, you must put it down on the table at the very beginning of your turn up to play. You then draw a card from the stock pile as a substitute for the red three.

If you have more than one red three at the start, or if the substitute is a red three, you continue to draw until you have 11 cards which do not include a red three.

This process of getting 11 cards at the beginning is not considered part of the play. After you have gone through this preliminary you decide whether to draw from the stock pile or take the discard pile.

In Argentina, where the game of canasta first became very popular, the dealer would give 11 cards to each player but would then pause before turning up a card to start the play. Each player had the chance to put down his red threes and get substitute cards before anything happened. Only then did the dealer turn up a card and permit the first player to make his play.

When the game was transplanted to this country, the practice was changed. In the American version, each player waited for his turn to play before he put down any red three that was dealt to him. Nevertheless, the basic principle is the same; replacing a red three that was dealt to you does not count as a play but is only a preliminary.

If you get a red three later on in the course of a hand, you are required to put it down on the table immediately. You draw another card from the stock pile to replace it unless the red three came to you from the discard pile (this can happen only if the dealer turned up a red three, for it is against the rules to discard a red three at any time) or unless there are no cards left in the stock pile.

We'll have more to say on this subject next week.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

BONUSES

December is the month of bonuses.

Millions of dollars are handed out every year by many different types of organizations to employees and executives.

This extra money often challenges the economic integrity of the recipients. "What shall we do with it?" is a common question.

Frequently the dollars are squandered. Occasionally they are well spent for contemporary needs. Rarely do they go into long-range economic programs.

But, because they should, I want to write about a Korean war veteran, 28 years of age, who has a wife and a year-old youngster.

He is a commission salesman on a drawing account. 1953 has been a good year for him. He is just getting the feel of his job. His command of English, his knowledge of the product he sells, his ability to cope with the stern competition in his field, his wise budgeting of time—all these essential ingredients of good salesmanship are showing weekly improvement.

It is no surprise, then, that his 1953 bonus is $600. Ten days elapsed between the time he received notice of it and the payment.

The news was on the tip of his tongue on numerous occasions at home. But he has restrained his buoyant enthusiasms so that he can surprise his wife on Christmas morning.

That glorious morning he is going to give her $100 in crisp new bills. In addition, he will hand her a $20,000 life insurance policy and approximately $50 (or whatever is left of the bonus) to spend, as she knows best, for the youngster.

The $458.80 annual premium on that insurance contract will give him the incentive to work industriously during 1954.

The thought that his policy is backed by a hundred-year-old insurance company, that has always paid its claims on the dot and that has billions of dollars in solid assets, will buttress his mind on the bad days that all businessmen must have. And the fact that his lady and their child have this economic protection will give him confidence when he has short spells of discouragement.

A December bonus can go down the drain. It can weaken the fiber of a vacillating worker. It can pave the way to a wretched old age.

Or, through its sound employment, it can become a dynamic anchor that will help an individual or a family to ride out severe economic storms.

Bonuses, whether they are paid in January, July or December, may well be emoluments to give many persons pause. Bonuses take dozens of forms. They are extra money.

And extra money, like extra time, can be a curse or a blessing. Let it become a blessing.

I have lived in my city for 34 years. I know scores of people here who have nothing. Whose fault is it? The people themselves.

At age 28, retirement at 65 seems like eternity. And, with Social Security, a seemingly plausible excuse for economic carelessness, far too many persons forget about thrift and saving very early in life.

Insurance should be one of the foundations of financial security. And foundations of a successful life cannot be established too early.

Young people, upon taking a job and starting to save money, should get to know an insurance agent. All over America there are insurance representatives who have earned a degree: CLU (Chartered Life Underwriter).

This degree is, to insurance, what CPA (Certified Public Accountant) is to accountancy.

A CLU man is a good person to know. Ethically and professionally, he is well-qualified to render fine service in the insurance field.

All you bonus recipients who carry too little insurance should, before the timeliness of this piece runs out, get to know a good CLU. Build your bonus into your economic life.

The Forum

(Q) "What percentage of my savings (I am 30) should go into insurance?"

(A) Until you have an adequate insurance program ($10,000; $25,000; $50,000) at least 50 per cent. Your CLU friend will help you to determine exactly how much.

Harry C. France will answer one letter each week through this column. If you have any investment questions, write in care of this newspaper.

She Admits Holdups

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 14 (P)—A confessed bandit with a pony-tail hairdo was held today for investigation of five armed holdups. Pretty Nadine Bolton, blonde, lanky and 21, was arrested with a male companion on a downtown street. Without hesitating, she admitted having robbed two liquor stores of $169 because "the men didn't have the guts." "I got liquored up," police quoted the woman, "and pulled the jobs."

As Pegler Sees It

communism was to elevate the people of India, raise wages and abolish poverty.

"Goldsmith, being host, didn't butt in," the rabbi said. "He busied himself with the canapes but clucked in sympathy with Taylor, Birkhead and Mrs. Rohde. I got out of there as soon as I could and I didn't see Taylor at the rally to hold Berlin."

Goldsmith is a close friend of Arthur and Milton Eisenhower and Ike himself signed a testimonial to him although that one seems to have been slipped over on the President by one of his "advisers."

Well, Taylor was an assistant to Max Lowenthal, as counsel for a senatorial committee which Harry Truman was running as a one-man band and Max is the guy who first spotted Truman for vice president to succeed Roosevelt and did a lot to put him over on us in the Chicago Convention of 1944. Max Lowenthal went to Germany at the instigation of five "groups" which he never was compelled to name, as "adviser" to General Eisenhower and so did Simon Rifkind, another partner in Taylor's law firm, who was born in Russia and served a short hitch as a federal judge.

Senator Bill Langer, of North Dakota, made a speech on Dec. 18, 1950 in which he said: "If the payrolls are subpoenaed by the Judiciary Committee it will be seen that practically the entire staff" at Nurnberg "was composed of leftists and men who have since been exposed as Communists and members of Communist-front organizations. They acted under the Moscow principle that the state can do anything to its enemies."

Add to these items the facts that Randolph Paul, another of Taylor's partners, was way up in the treasury, once as high as acting secretary, during the time when Harry Dexter White was running things for the Russians and writing the Morgenthau Plan and the 10-Point Plan for Japan, and does your information begin to spell something?

Woman Is Held

Georgetown, British Guiana, Dec. 14 (P)—British authorities have arrested Mrs. Janet Rosenberg Jagan, young American-born wife of this South American colony's ousted prime minister, and will give her a hearing tomorrow on charges of holding an illegal meeting. The former Chicago nursing student and nine other leaders of the leftist People's Progressive Party were taken into police custody yesterday at a town 15 miles from Georgetown. They were later released after posting bonds of $75 ($44.50 U. S.) each. The police said they were using a loudspeaker to address a gathering of 300 people in defiance of a ban against public meetings without police permission.

The holdup is less useful at suit contracts than at no-trump," says Alfred Sheinwald in his "Second Book of Bridge," a new book on the play of the cards for beginners. However, he then shows a hand in which the holdup play leads to success.

"West opens the five of hearts," he writes, in describing the hand shown today, "and you count your losers: none in trumps, two in hearts, one in diamonds, and perhaps one in clubs. If the club finesse succeeds, you will have no trouble, for you will then lose only the two hearts and a diamond. You must provide, if you can, for the loss of the club finesse.

Your best chance is to hold up the ace of hearts in the hope that you can cut the communications between the two opponents. Your aim is to restrict the loss to only one heart trick. "Having made your plan, you play a low heart from the dummy. East puts up the king, and you play low. East continues with the jack of hearts, and this time you win the trick. There would be no point in holding up any longer, since then you would lose two heart tricks immediately.

"Having won the second round of hearts you next proceed to draw trumps. West discards a low heart on the second round of trumps, so you know that East holds four of the five missing trumps. You proceed to draw all four of them, discarding a low heart from dummy on the last.

"You are now ready to try the club finesse. You lead the ten of clubs from your hand and let it ride for a finesse. East wins with the king of clubs. This is a disappointment. If the finesse had succeeded your contract would be safe.

"East cashes the ace of diamonds. You are glad to see this. If West had held the ace of diamonds he would have used it as an entry to his high heart. "Now East leads another diamond. Thanks to your holdup he is unable to lead another heart. You win the second round of diamonds with the king and can now safely run the clubs to discard your last losing heart. You make your contract, losing one heart, one club, and one diamond."

If the reader misses a holdup play after this clear explanation, don't blame Sheinwald—or me. Although the refusal to take an ace on the first round of a suit is chiefly a no-trump play, look for it also even at a suit contract.

Goal Is Exceeded

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—American relief for Korea says it has obtained 40,000 pounds more clothing for destitute Korean civilians than its 1953 goal of 10 million pounds. Douglas Fairbanks, the relief organization's national chairman said in a report yesterday to President Eisenhower that the clothing has a value of about 12 million dollars.

Groups Will Merge

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—The New York State Chiropractic Society Inc. and the Federation of Chiropractors of New York Inc., are merging into a single professional body. They voted at a meeting yesterday to form the Chiropractic Association of New York Inc., which will represent some 3,000 chiropractors practicing in the state.

Exams Announced By Civil Service

The United States Civil Service Commission has reannounced three examinations for the following positions in the Federal service: Dietitian, $3,410 and $4,205 a year, for duty in hospitals and regional offices of the Veterans Administration throughout the country and in Puerto Rico; elementary teacher, $3,410 a year, for duty in the Bureau of Indian Affairs in various sections of the country; and veterinarian, $4,205 to $7,040 a year, for positions principally in the Bureau of Animal Industry, located throughout the country.

Appropriate education is required for all of the positions. For some positions, experience is also required. The maximum age limit for elementary teacher is 50 years; there is no maximum age limit for the other positions. The Commission has also announced that applications are again being accepted for the positions of resident in hospital administration, $2,200 a year, and dietetic intern, $1,800 a year, for training in Veterans Administration hospitals. Appropriate education is required. The maximum age limit is 35 years. Qualified persons will be eligible for the training classes beginning in 1954. Further information and application forms may be obtained from William P. Barry, Main Post Office, Kingston, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Next time you need gas—get the Best gasoline you can buy!

Gives any engine TOTAL POWER
the utmost working horsepower under today's all-round driving conditions
NEW "TOTAL POWER" ESSO EXTRA

NEW "TOTAL POWER" ESSO EXTRA is especially engineered to meet the total power requirements of even the highest-compression new engines. For millions of older cars it means better working horsepower and better total engine performance. It is not only the finest gasoline in Esso's history... but the very best gasoline you can buy! If you've tried it, you know what we are talking about.

TOTAL POWER means just what it says. It means, to begin with, a great advance in sheer high-compression POWER under the toughest driving conditions. It means POWER to start fast on cold winter days... POWER for fast warm-up... POWER to counteract stalling caused by carburetor icing on cold, damp days... POWER to kill off knocks and pings... POWER to take steep hills in stride... POWER to pick up swiftly from a standstill. It means that in the total of the jobs your engine will be called on to do this winter, you can expect the maximum that can be obtained from any gasoline you can buy. For the very newest in "Happy Motoring" try New "TOTAL POWER" ESSO EXTRA in your car today!

Total working horsepower for the highest-compression cars under the toughest driving conditions. For many late model high-compression cars "Total Power" Esso Extra Gasoline now makes it possible to enjoy full performance without a trace of knock or ping.

Total working horsepower for many new cars where total performance is now kept "under wraps" by retarding the spark to avoid knocking. These cars may now be set to fully efficient timing, giving owners more horsepower, better gasoline mileage, too!

Total working horsepower wherever "cold engine stalling" is a critical problem on cool, moist days. Contains a special additive that protects against stalling caused by carburetor icing, permits maximum possible power-flow from the time you start your engine.

Total working horsepower can benefit present users of "regular" gasoline who drive mostly in short trips around town. Now, by simply switching to new "Total Power" Esso Extra, they can get better mileage this winter... better all-around performance, too.

Entertaining Program Of Songs and Dances Given by Students

A choral group from Kingston High School, and folk dancers from the Myron J. Michael School presented an entertaining program Wednesday evening for the annual Christmas dinner of the Kingston Branch of the AAUW.

Under the direction of Leonard Stine, music director at KHS, the choral group of 28 voices presented five selections, including Christmas carols and sacred music of the Christmas season. Cameron Ryalace accompanied the group on the piano.

A Slavic Kolo and a Black Forest Mazurka were among the five dances performed by the MJM group of 15 girls who were instructed by Miss Dolores Filardi, of the physical education department at MJM.

Mrs. Torm Larsen, accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd Le Fever, sang two soprano solos, then led the entire group in the singing of Christmas carols.

Mrs. Vincent Connelly and Mrs. Harry Halverson of the Arts Committee were co-chairmen of the dinner. Members of their committee were the Misses Dorothy Brooks, Maureen Davis, Elizabeth Dwyer, and Ethel Hull and Mrs. Joseph McNelis and Mrs. Herbert Greenwald.

The next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. John Snyder, 67 Maiden Lane, Tuesday, Jan. 12, 1954 at 8 p. m.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

A LONG-ESTABLISHED CUSTOM

A mother writes me: "I have a seventeen-year-old daughter who has been invited by a boy friend, who goes to college in another city, to go with him to his fraternity dance, a few weeks from now. My daughter is very anxious to go and cannot understand why I am hesitating about saying 'yes.' The reason is that I was brought up in the days when chaperons on occasions such as these were a must. His college is a big one and far away from here, and she has not found any girl friend who will be going down to this dance, so she will have to go alone. Would it be proper for her to go by herself on the train and stay at the hotel or whatever place is provided by the boy? I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

There's no impropriety in your daughter accepting this type of invitation. Inviting girl friends to college dances has been an accepted custom for many years, and nowhere are the proprieties more strictly enforced than in men's colleges that invite young women guests, especially overnight visitors to the fraternity dances.

Uncle or Brother?

Dear Mrs. Post: My two brothers and I have been living with my aunt and uncle since our parents' death. In fact, they practically raised us as we were only youngsters when we came to live with them. I am going to be married soon and the question has come up as to who is the proper person to give me away—my uncle or my oldest brother?

Answer: In your case, the proper person to give you away is your uncle. If you greatly prefer your brother, and your uncle has assured you that it will not hurt his feelings to let your brother take your father's place, only then will you not be belittling your uncle in any way.

Helping With Her Galoshes

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary for a gentleman to help a lady put on her overshoes?

Answer: He might very well offer to help an older lady. But he wouldn't be expected to help a young one unless there were some special reason why she is in need of assistance.

Do not be alarmed about serving a dinner without help. Mrs. Post's booklet No. 503 includes full details so that you may serve and also enjoy your guests. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Dead Letters Are Live

Vancouver (AP)—Chinese in this city have an unusual dead letter office. It's a bulletin board in the window of the Chinese Times. In nine years, an estimated 2,000 letters have been delivered this way. Only one or two have hung there the one year time limit after which time they are returned to sender.

Students Arrange Holiday Displays

While prancing reindeer, Santa, his sleigh and a group of gnomes hold the spotlight outside the high school, a miniature village complete with church, homes, library and stores is the feature of the decorations in the rotunda. The stairways also are festooned with greens, balls and Christmas cards. The job of decorating has been going on all week with Student Council and the Cooperative Retailing classes setting up the displays. Loryne Connick, Miss L. May Quimby and Marvin Craft of the faculty acted as advisers to the students who undertook the task of decorating for the holiday season.

Students arranging the displays included John Bonestell, Betty Brophy, Mary Jo Cecilia, Charles Cherny, John Cuff, Ray Gallo, Carol Keizer, Gill Kelder, Lewis McMahon, Mary Millin, Bianca Palladino, Phyllis Perry, Henry Schultze, Leroy Sheffer, Owen Smith, Joan Sottile, Frank Tiano, John Turck, Harold Van Aken and Louise Williams.

Debating Champions

Although without experience in inter-school debating since previous years, both Kingston teams captured honors at the Mid-Hudson meet held at Newburgh Free Academy Saturday Dec. 6.

Kingston was represented by two teams, one composed of upper classmen and another team of inexperienced underclass debaters composed entirely of freshmen.

Members of the upper class teams were affirmative, Thomas Conway and John Helmer; negative, Charles Osterhoudt and Donald Terry. The freshman group of debaters included affirmative, Lee Gershuny, John Snyder and Clifford Terry; negative, Dick Cartright, Lorraine Etienne and Mary Whitford.

Each of the four local teams participated in four debates with the upperclassmen tying with Poughkeepsie for six wins and two losses. The freshmen won seven of their eight debates to emerge as undisputed champions of their division. The question discussed was Resolved, that 19 year olds should be granted the franchise.

For winning all her debates Lee Gershuny received a medal while Dick Cartright, who tied for third place, received honorable mention. Six members also received blue ribbons for excellence in presentation and delivery.

The teams were accompanied to Newburgh by their coach Miss Ethel M. Hull.

Maroon Masquers Program

On Dec. 7, during the first meeting of the entire Maroon Masquers, nine members, under the direction of Chairman Roxanne Gershuny, enacted the radio play The Night the Animals Talked. This was adapted from the television program I Remember Mama by Roxanne.

The cast consists of Robert Weisman, narrator; Gail Kias, David Barnovitz, Barbara Warnecke, Bernard Carpinelli, Barbara Schwartzberg, Joyce Dowdell, Curtis Swezy and Sande Galate.

Roxanne and her committee are busily at work again on a program for the next meeting.

Students Employed

This year as they have for many years, students of KHS will be working in stores during the Christmas rush.

Loryne Connick, retailing teacher, is in charge of securing employment for these students. He said that 87 students have gotten jobs through him. This in addition to the 153 regularly employed. There will be approximately 100 students employed by the time the quota is filled.

Mr. Connick said that those who wished employment should leave their name on a card in his room. This will be dated and when an opening arises, the card with the earliest date will be given preference.

DE interviewed several students who are employed for Christmas and also those who are employed regularly. The trend of opinion was that the students were happy with their jobs and most did not think they could have gotten a job if left to their own devices.

College Tests

Saturday, Dec. 6, a group of seniors from KHS went to New Paltz Teachers College where they took college entrance examinations. Among those who went were Frieda Cohen, Norma Zang, Carolyn Meeker, Paula Weiner, Anita Pinkus, Rose Nardi, Patricia Peiper, Richard Gendreau, Richard English and Claudia Bouchard.

Others included Marion Knudson, Gail Kias, Linda Motter,

Tuesday to elect officers. Chosen were Carol Fiedler, president; Margaret Bruck, vice-president; Lillian Garrity, secretary, and Audrey Justice, treasurer.

At their next regular meeting the members will have as guest speaker a member of the faculty of the School of Nursing of Poughkeepsie State Hospital.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Ulster County Medical Association will sponsor a tea for all members of Future Nurses Dec. 16 at the Nurses' Home of Kingston Hospital.

Music Group Trip

This Thursday, Friday and Saturday Estelle Fatum, Jane Gunter, Kenneth Hotaling, William Roosa, Cameron Rylance, Lee Harrington and Jacqueline Burhans accompanied by Leonard Stine, director of music in the Kingston schools, attended the All-State Music Conference at Syracuse.

One hundred school music directors participated in the conference as well as 180 selected students who sang in the All-State choir. Other students played in the All-State band. On Saturday night the choir under the direction of John Raymond of Lafayette College and the band, directed by Milo Hobey took part in a final concert held at Lincoln High School.

Key Club Sale

KHS's Key Club, upholding its money-raising reputation of past years, is planning a rummage sale Dec. 18 and 19 to establish a fund for cerebral palsy. The sale will be held on lower Broadway with the mothers of the club selling all types of clothing and assorted articles. Charles Osterhoudt is chairman of the committee arranging the sale. He is being assisted by Bert Bishop, David Barnovitz, William Hirons, Brian

FNA Activities

Future Nurses of America Club, which is sponsored by Miss Kinkade, held its first meeting

Fennelly, Bob McNierney and Peter Cain.

Honor Society Inducts Members

The "A" assembly group witnessed the induction of senior students into the Honor Society Thursday, Dec. 10. Also present at the assembly were the parents of the new members and the guest speaker, Frederic Snyder. Telling of the four qualities each member of Honor Society should have were Roger Billings, speaking on scholarship; Mary Ellen Adams, leadership; Anita Musal, character and Gail Kias, school service. Ed Strong, club president, conducted the ceremony.

Seniors inducted were Grace Bruno, Barbara Chmura, Scott Comstock, Tom Conway, Robert Coutant, Gerald Fisher, John Kiwus, Joanne Lee, Caroline Meeker, Betsy Rigby, Ray Roux, Phyllis Silverstein, Carol Tegar, Bob Weisman and John White.

After school a tea was given for old and new members, the homeroom teachers, and Honor Society advisors.

Christmas Parties

Miss Davenport's Child Care

class has begun bringing young children to school to be observed and interviewed by the students. On Dec. 10 Beverly Howard brought four-year-old Darrel Ashdown to school with her and Anne Conlin brought her five-year-old sister, Noreen Conlin. They were given cookies and milk and some coloring books and two puppets to play with. Some of the questions asked them were: what do you want for Christmas, do you prefer to play by yourself or with other children, and what games do you like to play? The students also watched the children's actions and speech.

During the year, the class will try to bring in as many children of different ages as possible. They plan to keep a record of each child's height and weight, what they eat, what time they get up and what time they go to bed.

Check Those Cookies

Des Moines (AP)—The state treasurer's office received a tax payment check with the recipe for chocolate chip cookies on the back. Attached was a note saying: "This is a wonderful recipe. You'd better try it."

Phil Versace Cracks HVBL Record With 761 at Bowlodrome

Bridge City Star Rolls 279, '78, '04

But Dick Howard's 722 Paces Jones Sweep

Phil Versace, the brilliant Poughkeepsie match game shooter, shattered the Hudson Valley League individual series record with a towering 761 Saturday night at the Bowlodrome.

The bespectacled Greek star picked a dramatic setting for his heroics and he thrilled the huge gallery with successive slams of 279, 278 and 204. He eclipsed the former record held by Charlie Gruenwald of Kingston at 743.

Versace's tremendous pinning took the spotlight away from Jones Dairy's Dick Howard who settled for 722, and sent his average soaring to a league-leading 207-10.

Jones Sweep Three
But despite Versace's magnificent pocket blasting, Jones Dairy remained inviolate on the famed alleys 7 and 8, repulsing the Poughkeepsie Cabs in three straight to wrest the league lead from them while piling up an impressive 3203 series. The Dairy-men now lead the Cabs by two games with a record of 34 wins and 8 losses.

Versace opened with 279. When he followed with 278, the jam-packed gallery began thinking in terms of Johnny Ferraro's all-time Hudson valley record of 818. But the red head Versace suddenly ran into trouble with a 5-7 split in the third frame and a 6-7-10 in the fourth of the last game. He settled for 204.

Howard, reeling off 288, 236 and 198 for his 722, had 290 in the wood when he came up for his 10th frame in the first set. He picked up the first two strikes but left two pins on the last shot. Larry Weishaupt shot 611, Harold Broskie 648 and John Ferraro 639 for Jones. Hawver's 622 was second best for the Cabs as such worthies as George Baird, Dick Rhea and Jake Charter failed to crack the "600" circle.

Another Bad Week
Kingston keglers, who grabbed 10 games out of 12 from Poughkeepsie last weekend, continued to pour it on the Bridge City trundlers by a 9-2-21 margin this time. The half-game was the result of a tie between Schryver and Arlington at Poughkeepsie.

The Lumberjacks, who started Cabs on the skids last week, tied Arlington at 911 in the first game, then took the next two with 994 and 874 for a 2779 series.

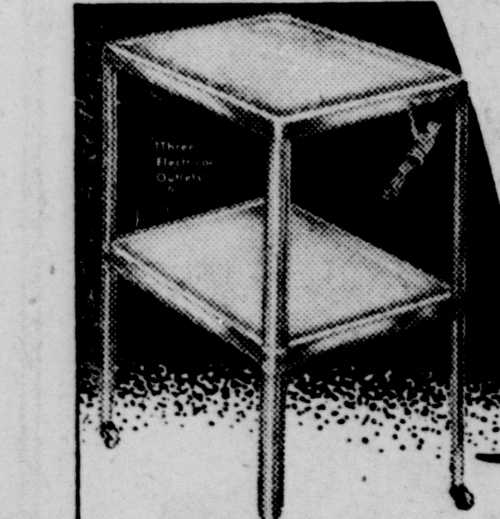

Capt. George Shufeldt led with 213-211-178-602. George Robinson had 204-204-576 and Whitey Crispell furnished 200-563. Ed Osterhoudt tossed 223-186-202-611 for Arlington.

Elstons Cop Three
Elston Sports grabbed a trio from Fogg-Nash at Poughkeepsie with consistent games of 997-915-937 for 2889. Capt. Tom Amato shot 209-584. Angie Ferraro had 214-583. Frank Grimaldi 201-574. John Ferraro Jr. 227-572. Tom Carlino posted 222-556. Bob McCarthy slammed 210-582 for the Fogg-Nash.

Academy Center of Poughkeepsie scored a 2-1 decision over Rapp's Express on 5 and 6 at the Bowlodrome to account for the only Kingston loss over the weekend.

Al Holmstrom, the pre-war Poughkeepsie ace, anchored the Academy with 218-193-198-609. Top men for Rapp's were Ken Joseph 203-593. Buster Ferraro 203-582 and Mickey Kahrs 565.

John Sweeney and Charlotte Lapine dominated the bowling scene last week.

Sweeney became the second bowler in local history to miss a "300" score by the margin of a wavering 10-pin. His 706 triple, highest of the week, was an all-time CYO record.

Mrs. Lapine, the KWBA president, fired a brilliant 1738 to capture the KWBA tournament all-events. Although records are hazy in this department, Charlotte's nine-game total is believed to be the second highest on record, being topped only by Rose Schatzel's 1749 in the 1946-47 season.

Johnny Ferraro, of course, is the all-time collector of ABC individual awards. He is credited with one sanctioned "300," a pair of 299s and one bronze award for 298. The Ace has rolled seven perfect scores of "300" but only one in ABC play.

Rita La Rocca, one of the old pros, led the regular weekly sessions for the distaff department with a 573 blast and also compiled 522 for two appearances in the Big Ten.

Jake Charter, the Poughkeepsie ace, fired a 672 in the Ferraro Major.

The Top Ten (Men's Division)

1. J. Sweeney ... 181 229 226 706
2. J. Charter ... 225 214 223 672
3. R. Schatzel ... 181 246 237 664
4. K. Joseph ... 211 216 226 653
5. C. Manfro ... 191 246 213 650
6. W. Crispell ... 180 253 203 636
7. R. Williams ... 212 219 212 642
8. H. Broskie ... 202 213 215 630
9. D. Howard ... 163 194 247 624
10. J. Sweeney ... 205 201 213 624

(Women's Division)

1. R. La Rocca ... 210 199 164 573
2. R. Schatzel ... 208 186 199 593
3. A. Manfro ... 179 164 199 542
4. B. Reilly ... 197 165 165 527
5. C. Wilcox ... 169 162 196 527
6. J. Spada ... 148 175 199 522
7. R. La Rocca ... 182 173 167 522
8. F. Battalino ... 153 183 191 527
9. N. Alverson ... 158 158 192 508
10. E. Singer ... 143 183 181 507

The Eleventh Frame:
John Sweeney had his ups and downs during the week. After posting the 299-706 blast in the CYO, he hit 124 the next time out in the Everybody's wheel. Orchids to Ann Manfro (542) and Bonnie Reilly (527). KWBA did another nice job in running its 13th annual tournament with dispatch. The indefatigable secretary, Mrs. Helene Mollenhauer, and president Charlotte Lapine were ably assisted by Nell Glennon, Ronnie Gerber, June Van Kleek, Dot Walthery and Eleanor Singer. The gals tabbed Johnny Sangi as "The Polisher" for his efforts to keep the Central Recs immaculate for the occasion. KWBA prize list revealed such interesting items as $3.16 for 12th place in Class B doubles. Not to mention $3.17 for 14th place.

Of National Note:
Mayor Newkirk, Dorothea Flemings, Peter Kerevan were among those donating individual trophies for the KWBA tournament. Rose Schatzel's 693 blast rates as 10th highest in the nation this season. The female leader is Ann Setlock of Detroit with 758. Marge Coleman of Toledo, Ohio, has a 204 average for 24 games. Sylvia Wene, the great Philadelphia ace, is hitting 201 for 21 sets and Val Clifford of Detroit, 200 for 33 sets. Rome, (20,000 pop.) is sending 50 teams to the WIBS nationals at Syracuse next spring. Jamestown is sending 60 and Buffalo has upped their goal from 300 to 350 teams. Shows what bowling interest can be aroused with some work by leaders.

Twenty-six of America's greatest bowlers, 20 men and six women, have qualified for the National Individual Match Game championship tournament at Chicago on January 15-24. These 26, whose previous tournament records give them exemptions from sectional qualifying trials now being concluded, will be joined by 140 men and 58 women who survive the regional tests.

The roster of men earning exempt positions includes, among others, such former champions as: Don Carter, Detroit, 1952; Junie McMahon, Fairlawn, N. J., 1949-1951; Dick Hoover, Akron, Ohio, 1950; Connie Schwoegler, Madison, Wis., 1942-1948; Andy Vari-papa, Hempstead, L. I., 1946-47; Joe Wilman, Beryn, Ill., 1945; Buddy Bomar, Chicago, 1944; and Ned Day West, Allis, Wis., 1943.

ATTRACT "DIVING" DUCKS TO DECOYS

LOW FLYING FLOCKS OF DUCKS IN THE DISTANCE MAY NOT SEE YOUR SPREAD OF DECOYS NOR HEAR YOUR CALL AGAINST THE WIND. AT SUCH TIMES, A WAVE OF YOUR HANDKERCHIEF ABOVE THE BLIND OFTEN GETS THEIR ATTENTION, CAUSING THEM TO SWING AROUND TO LOOK YOUR DECOYS OVER. DON'T CONTINUE WAVING AS THEY SWING ABOUT. ANOTHER TRICK IS TO TOSS YOUR HAT ABOVE THE BLIND. FROM A DISTANCE IT LOOKS LIKE A DUCK JUMPING AND SETTLING ON THE WATER.

John Howard's 627 Slam Highest in Local Leagues

John Howard's 627 triple, with 213-246-168, in the Electrol League was the highest 30-frame slam in the city over the weekend. Tony Pizzarelli socked 222 for high solo in that loop.

Gerald Woodvine and Ferd Short rapped 201 each in the American League of the Y Mercantile and Chipe Rhymer took down high series honors with 172-191-171-534. Tom Rowland's 223 and Bob Fatum's 185-147-212-544 paced the National.

Eddie Marks copped high single for the second straight week in the Tavern Association with 226 and Jay Crosswell's 191-189-202-582 led the triple department.

John Lowe 201 and Tracy Jordan with 540 (200-171-169) paced the Central Rec Mixer. In the Ferraro League, Don Sickler fired 223 and Tom Sickler topped 200-169-177 for 546.

Waltman Slams 557
Dick Waltman's 201-557 and Tony Pizzarelli's 222-544 trailed Howard in the Electrol. # Angels Trounce Bakery In 'Y' Opener, 107-47

Charles-Wallace Bout Wednesday Tops Week's Slate

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Floyd Patterson, boxing's "Rookie of the Year" for 1953, goes after his ninth straight victory tonight at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway with Dick Wagner of Tappan, N.J. Wagner, a rough body jumper, gave the former Olympic 165-pound champion, his toughest fight April 13 at the same arena. Patterson won the decision after a grueling battle. It was one of the two pro fights in which Patterson has failed to knock out his man.

Because Patterson is only 19, the fight is limited to eight rounds. It will be seen on television (Dumont) in some sections of the country.

Ezzard Charles and Coley Wallace meet in "the" bout of the week Wednesday night at San Francisco. Charles is No. 3 challenger to Rocky Marciano and Wallace is No. 6.

Still aiming for a title bout with Rocky Marciano, ex-champ Charles can't afford another setback after his defeats by Nino Valdes and Harold Johnson.

Wallace, who played the title role in "The Joe Louis Story" for the movies, stopped Billy Gilliam in his last outing, Sept. 28.

The interesting match will be seen on television (CBS) from the Civic Auditorium.

There will be an all-Irish main event in Madison Square Garden Friday when Paddy Young and Billy Graham meet in a 10-round.

Knicks Snap Losing Streak

Winning or losing, the Minneapolis Lakers and the New York Knickerbockers always seem to make the big news in the National Basketball Association.

The Lakers, defending champions, had their 10-game victory string snapped last night as they dropped an 87-70 verdict to the Rochester Royals. However, George Mikan and Co. still hold a comfortable two and one-half game margin atop the Western Division.

At Fort Wayne, the Knicks ended their five game losing streak by edging the Pistons 69-68. Vince Boryla was high man for the New Yorkers with 23 points.

In other games, the Syracuse Nationals walloped the Boston Celtics 108-74 and the Milwaukee Hawks edged the Baltimore Bullets 73-70.

Jack Doyle's 26 Pace Lincolns' 76-74 Win

Scoring at will against a porous defense, Harry's Angels steamrolled Victory Bakery, 104-47, in the first game of the YMCA "A" League Saturday.

In the companion piece, Lincoln Park Inn shaded the powerful Valley Gardens, 76-74, by staving off a desperate rally by the Gardens in the last five minutes.

The Angels' front line murdered the Bakers with 67 points. Big Bill Kleine of Woodstock led with 24 points, Big Bill East had 22 and Lafayette "Champ" Holstein racked up 21. Making his debut in the Y League, Bill Waterous of Woodstock contributed 14 points to the Angel total.

Vince Peck was the only Baker in double figures with 14 points on set shots and push shots.

Doyle Hooped 26 points to press Bryan Lawrence (27) of the Gardens for individual honors. Joe Murdock (12), Don Madison (14) and Bill Tierney (15) were other Lincoln stars. Schoonmaker added 24 to the Valley total, and Chick Meehan hit with 13.

will be of steel construction with concrete abutments.

A contract stipulation called for two working shifts on the project at all times unless the Thruway Authority granted permission to work a single shift at any time during construction of the section. The bridge construction and the filling in of swamp areas were expected to be the major construction problems on the section.

In the United States, the proportion of women in the labor force increased from 17 per cent in 1890 to 24 per cent in 1940.

Cartwheeling to a Halt

Gene Gedman, 26, Detroit Lions' back, goes cartwheeling after being hit by New York Giants' Frank Gifford in third period of game at the Polo Grounds. Action came after Gedman gathered in a pass from Bobby Layne that was good for a 12-yard gain. Lions topped Giants, 27-16, to clinch western division title of National Football League.

'Finger Tip' Brings Greco '297' Game

Take it from "Sparks" Greco, proprietor of Tony's Pizzeria, Johnny Ferraro never gives a guy a bum steer. Not when he's trying to sell him a ball (Ferraro's brand.)

The Ace drilled a brand new mineralite for "Sparks" a few days ago. The names escaped us but the trademark is "ball of champions" whatever that means.

A slight discussion ensued before Greco, a former Saugerties wizard, was able to make up his mind between a conventional grip or the new fangled "finger tip."

After much deliberation, Greco decided on the "finger tip." Down they went to Ferraro's laboratory below the Bowldrome and up they came with a new ball.

Greco took over on alleys 7 and 8. A couple of strikes, then a couple of more. Finally the string went to 9, 10, then 11 and Mr. Greco was poised on the threshold of the Hall of Fame.

But, alas, the 12th ball was a shade "light," leaving the 4-7-8 setup in the left hand corner of the alley No. 8, and "Sparks" had himself a 297. It was the highest score of his career for the annual week performer in the Central Rec League. His previous high was 289 at the Saugerties Recreation.

Take it from Greco, when Ferraro drills them, they stay drilled. And from now he says, just call me "finger tip."

cause how are we ever going to know . . . how to deal in the future with this international conspiracy . . . to overthrow our government by force and violence? How are we ever going to know how to deal with that unless we find out the mistakes that were made in the past so that we can profit by them?"

The interview was transcribed during Brownell's visit to Texas last week.

American Prisoners Cancel Talks

South Korean and American prisoners. Thimayya labeled absurd some of the South Korean complaints and said they only could have been made to stall the explanations.

The Korean POWs, Thimayya said, were insisting on the right to make counter-explanations and long statements to explainers.

He said 21 of the 22 balking Americans signed a petition asking that "several points be clarified" in the South Korean POWs stand.

Thimayya did not amplify, except to add that the Americans maintained they were not attempting to impede the work of the commission.

The general said the Americans asked that their one fellow POW who didn't sign the petition go before the explainers, but that he refused. Thimayya did not identify them.

Thimayya said he couldn't understand why the Americans suddenly changed their position and refused to go to the explainers. "They promised me, honestly, they would come out," he said.

With the prisoner explanation program at a standstill and the attempts to set up a Korean peace conference broken off, Panmunjom remained quiet today—in contrast to the bustle of days past.

U. S. Special Envoy Arthur H. Dean, who walked out of the negotiations with the Reds last Saturday, leaves tomorrow for Washington and consultations with his government and representatives of other United Nations.

pened to him in a prison camp under what conditions I don't know, and under circumstances I do not understand.

"But I think the Communists are capable of doing the same thing under other conditions. If they can destroy the home, they can disintegrate the nation."

Analyzing her son's letter, she read a passage from it—
"During life I have witnessed both peace and war in the United States. I love peace. I love mankind. I love them enough to fight for them. That is what I am doing right now—that is why I am not going home."

"Impossible to Live in U. S." She gestured to the letter—
"Why, he was only 17!"
"What does he know of life, and life in the United States?"
"He was in combat seven weeks. What does he know of war?"
"The whole argument falls apart."

In another passage, he wrote "it is impossible for me to live in the United States because I want to live as I wish."

The mother commented, "I wouldn't have any idea what he meant about 'impossible.'"
"I have failed somewhere and I must find out where, because I have three other children and I must not make the same mistake."

"I believe a mother should start at birth trying to train a child for life. Perhaps, I overdid it. Richard resented discipline. Perhaps that is where I made my mistake."

Still Wants to See Him
Asked if she still wanted to see her son, she almost broke down.
"Of course I want to see my son—of course I still want to see him."

She will stay in Tokyo for awhile.
Her son's message was a reply to one Mrs. Howe had written and which was delivered by NBC radio correspondent Jim Robinson through the Indian command which guards the camp prisoners.

In the letter, Richard casually asked his mother to look up the Japanese wife of another American POW—Claude J. Batchelor of Kermit, Texas.

Mrs. Howe planned to meet her tonight.
The girl, Kiyoko Araki, told newsmen she and Batchelor had been about to register their marriage with the American consul here when the Korean war broke out and he left for the front.

Friends said Kiyoko still considered Batchelor the only man she wants to marry.

Kiyoko said her last letter from Batchelor came just before the Korean armistice July 27, and that he said he wanted to come back and see her. She said there was no hint he planned to stay with the Communists.

NLRB Attempts To Avert Strike

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board holds a public meeting today, its first outside Washington in 18 years, in an effort to avert a waterfront strike threatened for Christmas Eve.

Up until now, regional units of the NLRB have handled disputes similar to the pier case here.

The NLRB hearing was called to decide on a petition by the AFL-International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA-AFL) for a bargaining election among some 15,000 longshoremen here.

Objective of the ILA-AFL is to oust the independent International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) from the waterfront. The AFL formed the new dock union after ousting the old ILA for failure to purge itself of racketeering elements.

With the two unions contending for control of waterfront labor, wage talks with shippers and stevedoring firms have been forced into the background as an 80-day Taft-Hartley law injunction approaches its Christmas Eve expiration time.

There is hope that an early NLRB election to determine which union is to be certified as the bargaining agent for the dock workers might result in a strike postponement.

Saugerties

Yule Date Set
Saugerties, Dec. 14—The annual Christmas program of Saugerties High School will be presented Tuesday morning, Dec. 22.

The program will be highlighted by the Christmas class speeches which will be given by representatives of the top three high school classes. Those chosen for this year's observance will be Richard Fusaro, senior class; Frederick Becker, junior class; and Patricia Hackett, sophomore class. Also on the program will be the reading of the Christmas Story, the singing of Christmas carols by the entire assembly, instrumental selections by the brass group, and renditions by the senior choir and girls' sextette.

Meetings Scheduled

Saugerties, Dec. 14—Troop 32, Boy Scouts, of Atonement Lutheran Church, will meet today in the meeting rooms at the church.

Troop 33 Malden-West Camp will meet on Tuesday, Dec. 15 at the West Camp Parish hall, Troop 31, Centerville, will meet on Wednesday, Dec. 16, at the Centerville Firehouse.

Malden-West Camp Committee Alarmed

Malden, Dec. 14—The Malden-West Camp Advisory Committee for the proposed fire district has shown some concern due to the apathy of the public to the hearing which is scheduled for Wednesday evening, Dec. 16, at Bigelow Hall at 8 p. m.

Many of the residents believe that the project is completed and show a lack of interest in the formalities that must follow. The committee wishes to stress the importance of making a good showing at this meeting. All residents who have an interest in this proposed district should attend this important meeting. The town board could very well be swayed by a lack of enthusiasm by the public at this time which would further delay action on this vital need, it was said. All are urged to attend to make the wishes of the majority known to the town board.
